Lady Susan

by Jane Austen

Jocelyn Harris, Terry MacTavish and friends return to the not so refined world of Jane Austen's Lady Susan, a selfish, scheming, unscrupulous woman – but charming when it suits her purposes. Robert Moss created a script from Austen's manuscript and has given the Globe permission to stage this piece.

| NEW STAGE BLACKS GIVE VERSATILITY As part of the renovation we had our existing stage blacks cleaned, repaired and split into sections. These have been rehung downstage and stage left – where they were originally made for. We have also purchased a new set, hanging from a rail which can be positioned from mid-stage to upstage. All of this gives us the flexibility not only to create interesting and different performance spaces, but to have rapid set changes. Dream stuff for directors and stage managers! | DCC – CREATIVE COMMUNITIES GRANT The Globe was successful in obtaining a grant of $2500 in the 2016 round of these grants.
